Furing up suddenly after the Communist reverses in Korea, the indecisive fighting in French Indo-China is now in its sixth year. Here, in the Tonkin delta, mixed forces of French and Colonial troops, carrying clothes and ammunition on their shoulders, wade along a shallow stream in search of the Communist guerillas who are forever a disturbing element.

Tibet's Rescue Appeal

EXPECTED TO GO UNHEEDED

Lake Success, Nov. 13. Tibet appealed to the UN today to rescue her invaders.

A 1,400 word cable, coming two days after the Chinese Reds in effect defled the Security Council even to question them about their presence in northern Koren, seemed doomed to go unheeded.

The Tibetan message, sent by Finance Minister, Mr. Tsepon Shakabpa, to the UN Secretary General, Mr Trygvo Lie, pointed knotty complications, since some delegations do not consider Tiber a nation.

NOT UN MEMBER

Even Nationalist China, bitenemy of the Chinese Reds, sees eye to eye with them on the status of Tibet as Chinese erritory.

Tibet is not a UN member and no action on the appeal can be taken unless it finds a sponsor So far none of the 11 Security Council members, indicated any desire to take up the case.

COMMENT OF THE DAY

these great problems.

LURST refusal of the Peking government to discuss with the Security Council the presence and activities of Chinese Communist troops in Koren automatically raises the question of whether the . United Nations should Cattack the Communists' main bases in Manchuria: Whitehall seems to be very conscious of the gravity of this possibility and spokesmen are quoted as indicating that Mr Bevin would hesitate very much to associate Britain with any such action. The dilemma could, of course, be easily dispelled by prompt withdrawal of the Chinese troops from Koren, but Peking is giving no sign that she is prepared to order their return to Chinese soil. If, therefore, the Chinese continue to pour men and war materials into Koren for use against the United Nations forces, the UN must inevitably be faced with a military, rather than a political decision; and it would be a decision on which the United Nations would have to take advice from General MacArthur. UN air forces are already blasting the Chinese forward line supply bases and communications which are in Korea. but if Pekings troops continue to engage UN forces and persist in compromising the security and peace of Korea there may be no alternative but to attack the Chinese Communists where they will be hardest-hit their home bases blong the Manchurian bottler. But this would be the ultimate. action after avery other effort had been made to clear up the Korean situation. Although Peking has rejected the negoustions which would bring about the end of hostmues by the withdrawal of Chinese troops in Korea. Moreover, Peking could accomplish this without any 1008 of "lace." The government of the new China People's Acquaite 1188 argued that it "cannot prevent Chinese volunteers from going to nght in Kored." By the same token the reking regime could not 'prevent' these "volunteers" from withdrawing and returning to their home land, and ir, in order to bring this about, Peking cares to keep up the nction of "volunteers" the rest of the world will raise no objection. However far apart from the Western nations Peking might ideologically consider itself, it is inconceivable that the new Chinesor leaders should commit the country at this time to a warring enterprise which may become impossible to localise. It is the ultimate effect of China's present intervention in Korea which calls for serious reflection on the part of the Peking government and demands, in the interests of the Chinese people, as well as the rest of the world, that wish counsels prevail. There is still ample time for Peking to send new instructions to its delegates now on their way to the United States: those instructions should be to meet United. National representatives amicably and with the intention of ending the Korean impasse by negotiation. And as a messure of good faith. Paking should simultangously order the withdrawal from North Korea of all Chinese "volunteers." By so doing the Poking government

PROPOSALS TURNS EUROPEAN ARMY FOR A

London, Nov. 13. The Foreign Under-Secretary, Mr Ernest Davies, told the House of Commons today that Britain was unable to accept proposals for a European army and a European Defence Minister.

The British Government could not enter into any constitutional federation of Europe, he said. It was Britain's intention to co-operate with European countries through. the appropriate organisations, including the Council of Europe.

Then came steam and then oil, and now. "bulldozers" cut out roads that gangs of slaves could never have done in hundreds of times the same time; and, dynamite, like a magic Thor with his hammer, bursts and shatters the rock that stands in our way.

Real skill means that force is exerted without explosion. Look at what even we have discovered about that essential power-process, the tempering of steel, so as to give us our super cutting tools.

Once, tempering much steel was a scene out of the Inferno. The blaze of the furnace, scorching any flesh left bare, giving cataract to eyes that dared to look into it. The hammering on glant anvils with bursts of sparks. The sudden explosive "quenchings" as the hot bar was plunged into water or oil.

For fally 20 minutes backetball at its best was seen last night when the visiting of Oddland Blue and Gold Naggeta broke loose in an exhibition of Championship play to down the local champions, the Chinese YMCA, by-the-record score of 101 to 54. The scoreboard only provided for double figures.

Despite the huge margin of victory, play reached a thrilling finish. With two minutes more to go, the score stood at 93-54, and as the Americans went all out to make the century mark, they brought the huge crowd to their feet with the fastest display yet seen on the local court. A well-anticipated interception by the Nuggets in the waning seconds followed by a flash to the basket, gave them the goal which brought the score from 99 to 101, just as the final gong came.

Though the score of three figures must have been a bitter pill for the local champions to swallow, theirs was the grandest show put up in the whole series against the world renowned cagers.

Batting

Sydney, Nov. 13. A big all-round improvement on the melancholy batting display by the MCC today may be needed tomorrow if they are to avoid a defeat by New South Wales, the Sheffield Shield holders.

The position is that New South Wales. who dismissed the MCC for 339 runs and themselves scored 11 runs without loss, will resume with a lead of 181 runs and all second innings wickets in hand.

Their obvious tactics will be to force the pace in an effort to declare by lunch at the latest. The way wouldthen be open for the fast bowler, Ray Lindwall, to hurl himself into an effort to snatch two or three wickets quickly with the new ball.

Rates Contested

A special sitting of the Supreme Court was held yesterday, when a special jury of three were empanelled, to hear certain appeals against the Police Rates. Mr Pollard appeared for the appellants. The first case was that of Messrs Bush and Co., who complained that, although simply tenants, they had been assessed at a rate much above the sum they actually paid. Having given evidence to this effect, Mr May, one of the assessors. stated that this tax was one that by the Ordinance should paid by the owner, and that the tenant therefore was not entitled to appeal. But His Lordship the Chief Justice decided that in this case the tax fell upon the tenant, and it was deckded that the properties should be assessed at the rents actually paid, and not at those at which the assessors had valued them. The other case was on the petition of Messrs Dent and Co., who complained of excessive taxation on various houses, the property of the firm, and ocbeen proved by the evidence of Mr Olding and others, the Court granted the redress claimed, amounting to a perclaimed, amounting to a percentage on nearly $5,000 per ennum. Without costs, on the ground that timely objection had not been made by the upoellants.
